

Candidate Briefing Document for the role of
COMMUNITY ENGAGEMENT MANAGER

www.encephalitis.info

Encephalitis International is a registered Charity and Company Limited by Guarantee.
Registered in England and Wales No. 04189027.
Registered Charity No. 1087843.
Registered Charity in Scotland: SC048210.

Dear future team member Community Engagement Manager,

Thank you for your interest in the role of Community Engagement Manager with Encephalitis International. As you consider making an application for the role, I hope you will find this pack encouraging, exciting and helpful.

From small beginnings back in 1994, we've grown from a local support group into an award-winning, global charity, acknowledged as the third sectors encephalitis experts. Through our awareness, research and support programmes we are the go-to resource for clinicians, researchers and those affected.

In joining Encephalitis International, you'd be joining a passionate, inclusive group of changemakers who are focussed on making lives better for people affected by encephalitis.

This role offers an exciting opportunity to manage the delivery of our connection opportunities and digital information for our growing international audience.

Although this role requires experience we are also focus on your aptitude, potential and values and we in return, offer a supportive, flexible, inclusive workplace where you'll be supported to be the very best you can be.

We encourage all potential applicants to have a chat first, so please do get in touch with me on alina@encephalitis.info or 01653 692583.

I'm very much looking forward to receiving your application and am confident that you would get so much out of your time with us.

ABOUT ENCEPHALITIS INTERNATIONAL

Encephalitis International is a life-saving, multi award-winning charity and the only resource of its kind in the world providing direct support and information to people affected by encephalitis and to their family and friends.

We receive no Government funding and rely on income raised from individuals, businesses, and grant-making organisations.

Encephalitis International is based in the gorgeous market town of Malton, twixt York and Scarborough. Our offices are a 2-minute walk from the railway station which makes commuting a breeze.

OUR MISSION, VALUES & OBJECTIVES

VISION: A world without death and disability from encephalitis.

MISSION: Rebuilding futures around the world by saving lives, accelerating awareness and driving research.

VALUES: Our core beliefs shape our culture and our work.

Passionate: We are dedicated to making a positive impact in the lives of our beneficiaries

Inclusive: Our aim is for everyone to be respected for who they are and feel supported and empowered.

Changemakers: We create the change in the world that makes life better for our community.

WHAT IS ENCEPHALITIS?

- Encephalitis is inflammation of the brain.
- It is caused either by an infection invading the brain or through the immune system attacking the brain in error.
- Anyone can be affected by encephalitis, irrespective of age, gender or ethnicity.
- Symptoms of encephalitis can vary but can include flu-like illness or headache, drowsiness, uncharacteristic behaviour, inability to speak or control movement and seizures.
- Mortality rates are high. Survivors are often left with an acquired brain injury, the degree and severity of which will vary.

TYPES OF ENCEPHALITIS

Autoimmune Encephalitis

Symptoms develop over days, weeks or months:

- Memory loss.
- Confusion, altered levels of consciousness, personality changes.
- Psychiatric symptoms (psychosis, hallucinations) and mood changes.
- Abnormal behaviour.
- Movement disorders and sleep disturbances.
- Seizures.

Some types of autoimmune encephalitis such as acute disseminated encephalomyelitis (ADEM) are caused by infection in which case the term 'post-infectious encephalitis' is used. Other forms of autoimmune encephalitis are associated with finding specific antibodies in blood such as VGKC complex (anti-LGI1 and Caspr2), NMDA receptor, GAD, AMPAR and GABA antibodies. Antibodies, also called immunoglobulins, are large Y-shaped proteins which identify and help remove foreign antigens such as viruses and bacteria. The reason why these antibodies are produced by the immune system in people with autoimmune encephalitis is not known in most cases. Sometimes a tumour (benign or cancerous) may generate the antibody.

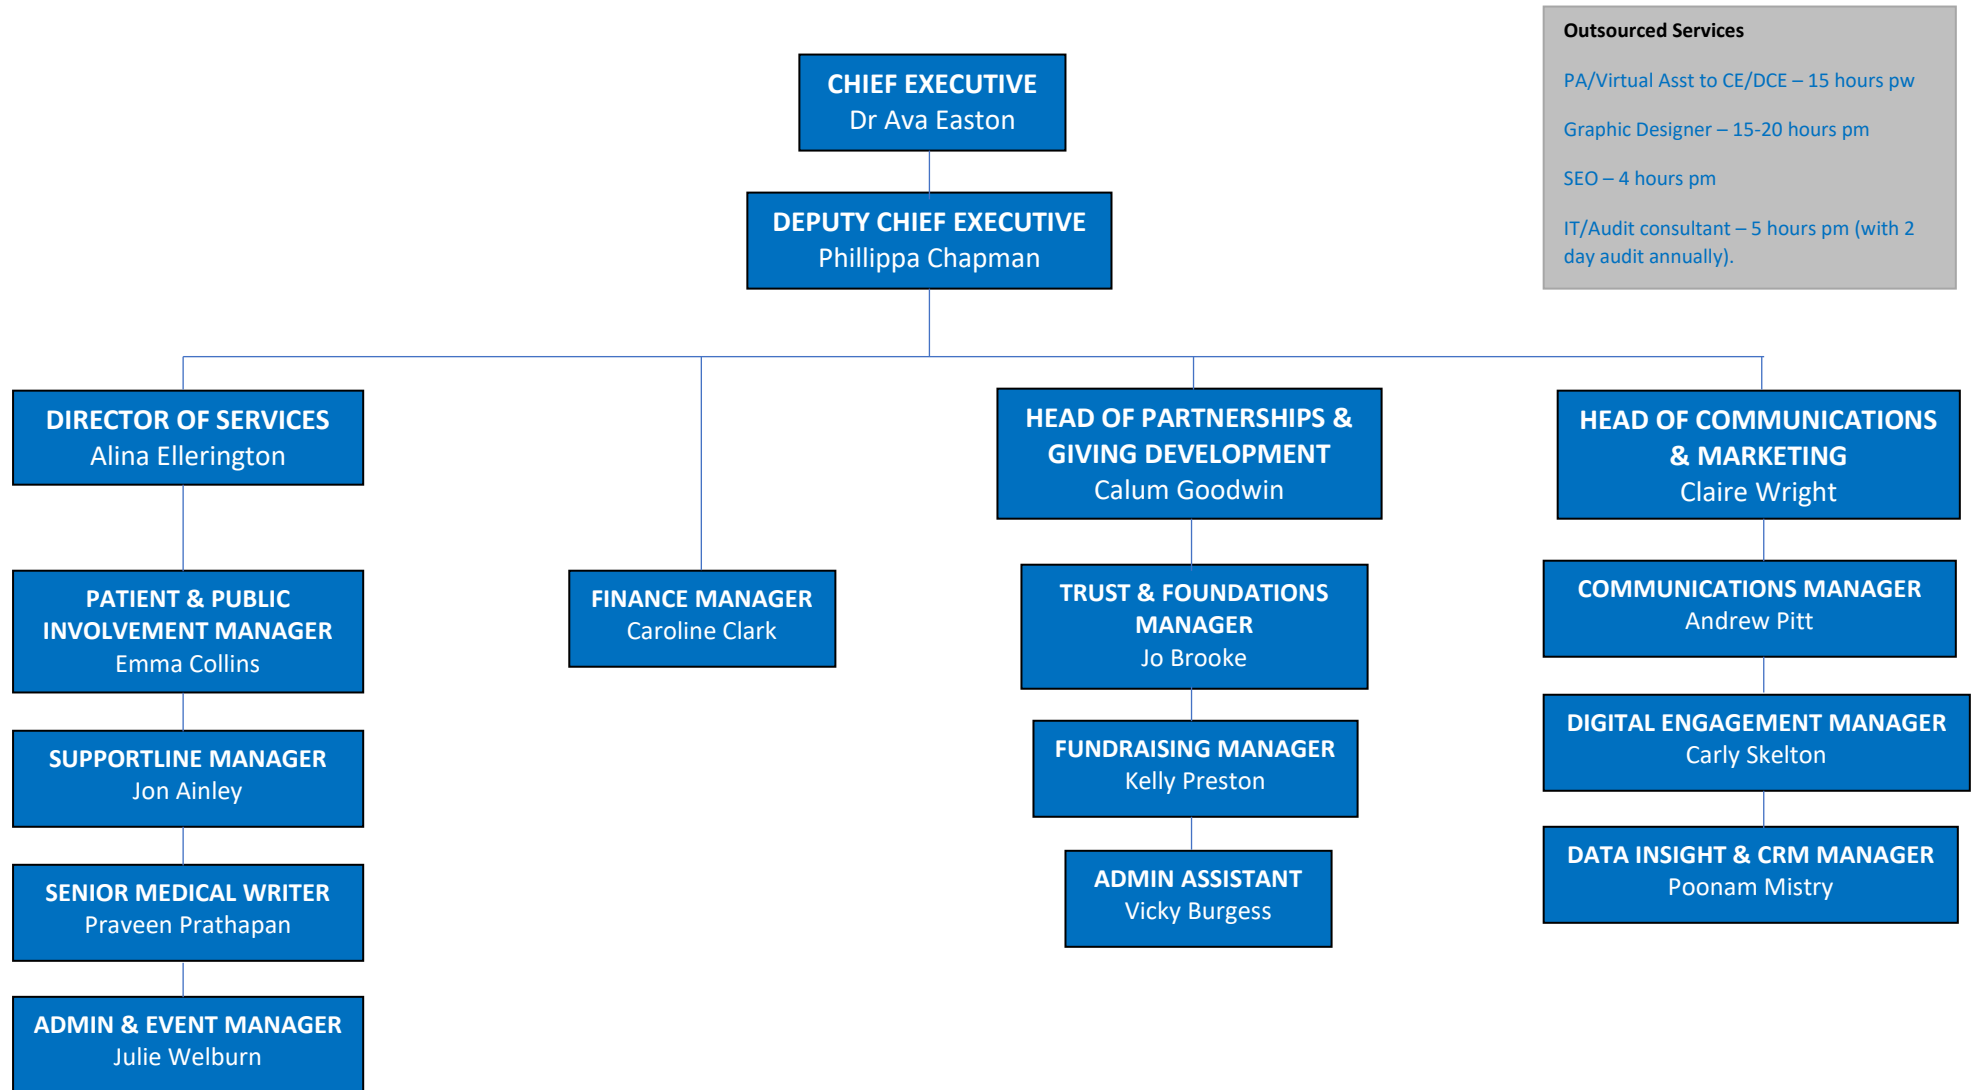

Infectious Encephalitis

Symptoms develop over hours, days or a few weeks

- Flu-like illness (headache, fever).
- Confusion, drowsiness, loss of consciousness or even coma.
- Seizures.
- Inability to speak or control movement.
- Sensitivity to light.
- Unusual behaviour.

Viruses are the most frequently identified cause of infectious encephalitis (e.g. herpes viruses, enteroviruses, West Nile, Japanese encephalitis, La Crosse, St. Louis, Western equine, Eastern equine viruses and tick-borne viruses). Any virus has the potential to produce encephalitis, but not everybody who is infected with these viruses will develop encephalitis. Very rarely, bacteria, fungi or parasites can also cause encephalitis.

ORGANISATIONAL CHART

SAFER RECRUITMENT POLICY

Introduction

The purpose of this policy is to set out the minimum requirements of a recruitment process for employees and Trustees of Encephalitis International that aims to:

- attract the best possible applicants to vacancies.
- deter prospective applicants who are unsuitable for work with children, young people, and adults at risk.
- identify and reject applicants who are unsuitable for work with children, young people, and adults at risk.
- ensure all candidates are treated fairly, consistently and in compliance with all relevant legislation.

Recruitment Advertisements

Advertisements for posts will include the statements:

- Encephalitis International is committed to safeguarding children, young people and adults at risk.
- All postholders are subject to satisfactory Disclosure and Barring Service (DBS) checks of different levels depending on the job role.
- Encephalitis International is a Disability confident employer.

Prospective applicants will, as a minimum, be supplied with or given access to the following:

- job description and person specification.
- Encephalitis International's Safer Recruitment Policy.
- Encephalitis International's Recruitment of Ex-Offenders Policy.
- the selection procedure for the post.

Application Process

All applications must be in writing (either on paper or by e-mail). Applicants are asked to send a CV and a supporting statement. We encourage the applicants to have an informal discussion with senior staff at the organisation before applying.

Shortlisting, Selection and References

Short-listing of candidates will be against the person specification for the post and considering the CV and the supporting statement.

Selection techniques will be determined by the nature and duties of the vacant post, but all vacancies will require an interview of short-listed candidates. Interviews will always be face-to-face or virtual video meetings. Telephone interviews may be used at the short-listing stage but will not be a substitute for a face-to-face interview.

Candidates will always be asked the same questions at interview to ensure the selection process is fair and all candidates are treated equally.

Candidates will always be required:

- to explain satisfactorily any gaps in employment.
- to explain satisfactorily any anomalies or discrepancies in the information available.
- to declare any information that is likely to appear on a DBS check.
- to demonstrate their suitability for the position.

References will be sought directly from the referee if a candidate is selected for the role. References or testimonials provided directly by the candidate will not be accepted. Where necessary, referees and/or previous employers, who have not been named as referees, will be contacted by telephone or e-mail, in order to clarify any anomalies or discrepancies. A detailed written note will be kept of such exchanges.

Referees will always be asked specific questions about:

- any disciplinary warnings, including time-expired warnings that relate to the safeguarding of children, young people, and adults at risk.
- whether they have any convictions or cautions (excluding youth cautions, reprimands or warnings) that are not 'protected' as defined by the Ministry of Justice?
- the candidate's suitability for this post.

Employment Checks

All successful applicants are required:

- to provide proof of identity (passport or driving licence).
- to complete a DBS check and receive satisfactory clearance (as per job specification – see below).
- to provide actual certificates of qualifications.
- to provide proof of eligibility to live and work in the UK.

DBS Procedure

A DBS online check is required for each applicant which dictates, depending on the role, whether a basic, standard or enhanced check should be applied for (please see link: <https://www.gov.uk/find-out-dbs-check>). The organisations administrator does this check.

Basic checks are coordinated by the Encephalitis International Administrator – but the individual applies via website <https://www.gov.uk/request-copy-criminal-record>), a link with payment information is sent to Encephalitis International's Administrator and the organisation pays the fees. Standard and enhanced checks are coordinated through the Encephalitis International Administrator and Umbrella Organisation. A DBS form and a DBS standard privacy policy declaration (requirement for umbrella organisation – see appendix one) should be completed and signed by the applicant. Identification documents are checked by the Encephalitis International's Administrator.

The organisation will accept previous certificates with the online check system, as long as they meet our requirements as outlined above. All checks are repeated every 3 years.

The results of checks will be contingent on whether the role will be awarded to the candidate. The Chief Executive or Board of Trustees will decide what convictions are an acceptable level of risk for the organisation given the role in question and our work with at risk adults and children.

All information provided for this process will be handled as per our Information Governance Policies which comply with the Data Protection Act 2018. All information will be sent recorded delivery and information kept encrypted and in lockable folders until the certificate is received by the organisation, after which it will be destroyed. Once the check is received, we will store the number with the personnel file for that employee.

For further details, please see link: <https://www.gov.uk/find-out-dbs-check>.

Equal Opportunities for Ex-Offenders

Encephalitis International is committed to equality of opportunity for all job applicants and aims to select people for employment on the basis of their individual skills, abilities, experience, knowledge and, where appropriate, qualifications and training.

Encephalitis International ensures that all those in the organisation who are involved in the recruitment process have been suitably trained to identify and assess the relevance and circumstances of offences.

Full details can be found in the Ex-Offenders Recruitment policy.

Successful Candidates

Once recruited, all successful candidates will go through the Encephalitis International induction process and be offered the relevant training. This will include but is not limited to:

- Data Protection Policy.
- Safeguarding Adults.
- Safeguarding Children.
- Health and safety.
- Lone working.
- Disability Awareness.

Ex-Offender Recruitment Policy

Introduction

The aim of this policy is to state the Society's approach towards employing people who have criminal convictions.

The Society is committed to equality of opportunity for all job applicants and aims to select people for employment on the basis of their individual skills, abilities, experience, knowledge and, where appropriate, qualifications and training.

England and Wales Employees Policy

As an organisation assessing applicants' suitability for positions which are included in the Rehabilitation of Offenders Act 1974 (Exceptions) Order using criminal record checks processed through the Disclosure and Barring Service (DBS), the Encephalitis Society complies fully with the code of practice and undertakes to treat all applicants for positions fairly.

The Society undertakes not to discriminate unfairly against any subject of a criminal record check on the basis of a conviction or other information revealed.

The Society can only ask an individual to provide details of convictions and cautions that the Society are legally entitled to know about. Where a DBS certificate at either standard or enhanced level can legally be requested (where the position is one that is included in the Rehabilitation of Offenders Act 1974 (Exceptions) Order 1975 as amended, and where appropriate Police Act Regulations as amended).

The Society can only ask an individual about convictions and cautions that are not protected.

The Society is committed to the fair treatment of its staff, potential staff or users of its services, regardless of race, gender, religion, sexual orientation, responsibilities for dependants, age, physical/mental disability or offending background.

The Society has this written policy on the recruitment of ex-offenders, which is made available to all DBS applicants at the start of the recruitment process.

The Society actively promotes equality of opportunity for all with the right mix of talent, skills and potential and welcome applications from a wide range of candidates, including those with criminal records.

The Society selects all candidates for interview based on their skills, qualifications and experience.

An application for a criminal record check is only submitted to DBS after a thorough risk assessment has indicated that one is both proportionate and relevant to the position concerned. For those positions where a criminal record check is identified as necessary, all application forms, job adverts and recruitment briefs will contain a statement that an application for a DBS certificate will be submitted in the event of the individual being offered the position.

The Society ensures that all those in the Society who are involved in the recruitment process have been suitably trained to identify and assess the relevance and circumstances of offences.

The Society also ensures that they have received appropriate guidance and training in the relevant legislation relating to the employment of ex-offenders, e.g. the Rehabilitation of Offenders Act 1974.

At interview, or in a separate discussion, the Society ensures that an open and measured discussion takes place on the subject of any offences or other matter that might be relevant to the position. Failure to reveal information that is directly relevant to the position sought could lead to withdrawal of an offer of employment.

The Society makes every subject of a criminal record check submitted to DBS aware of the existence of the code of practice and makes a copy available on request.

The Society undertakes to discuss any matter revealed on a DBS certificate with the individual seeking the position before withdrawing a conditional offer of employment.

Further information about conviction information

On the 29 May 2013, legislation came into force that allows certain old and minor cautions and convictions to no longer be subject to disclosure.

- Employers will no longer be able to take an individual's old and minor cautions and convictions into account when making decisions.
- All cautions and convictions for specified serious violent and sexual offences, and other specified offences of relevance for posts concerned with safeguarding children and vulnerable adults, will remain subject to disclosure. In addition, all convictions resulting in a custodial sentence, whether or not suspended, will remain subject to disclosure, as will all convictions where an individual has more than one conviction recorded.
- Applicants can be directed to the guidance and criteria which explains the filtering of old and minor cautions and convictions which are now 'protected' so not subject to disclosure to employers.

Northern Ireland Employees Policy

The Encephalitis Society complies fully with the Code of Practice, issued by the Department of Justice, in connection with the use of information provided to registered persons, their nominees and other recipients of information by AccessNI under Part V of the Police Act 1997, for the purposes of assessing Applicant's suitability for employment purposes, voluntary positions, licensing and other relevant purposes. We undertake to treat all applicants for positions fairly and not to discriminate unfairly or unlawfully against the subject of a Disclosure on the basis of conviction or other information revealed.

This policy is made available to all Disclosure applicants at the outset of the recruitment process.

The Society is committed to equality of opportunity to following practices, and to providing a service which is free from unfair and unlawful discrimination. We ensure that no applicant or member of staff is subject to less favourable treatment on the grounds of gender, marital status, race colour, nationality, ethnic or national origins, age, sexual orientation, responsibilities for dependants, physical or mental disability political opinion or offending background, or is disadvantaged by any condition which cannot be shown to be relevant to performance.

The Society actively promotes equality of opportunity for all with the right mix of talent, skills and potential, and welcomes applications from a wide range of candidates, including those with criminal records. The selection of candidates for interview will be based on those who meet the required standard of skills, qualifications and experience as outlined in the essential and desirable criteria.

We will request an AccessNI Disclosure only where this is considered proportionate and relevant to the particular position. This will be based on a thorough risk assessment of that position and having considered the relevant legislation which determines whether or not a Standard or Enhanced Disclosure is available to the position in question. Where an AccessNI Disclosure is deemed necessary for a post or position, all applicants will be made aware at the initial recruitment stage that the position will be subject to a Disclosure and that the Society will request the individual being offered the position to undergo an appropriate AccessNI Disclosure check

In line with the Rehabilitation of Offenders (Exceptions)(Northern Ireland) Order 1979 (as amended in 2014), the Society will only ask about convictions which are defined as “not protected” for the purposes of obtaining a Standard or Enhanced disclosure.

We undertake to ensure an open and measured and recorded discussion on the subject of any offences or other matters that might be considered relevant for the position concerned eg the individual is applying for a driving job but has a criminal history of driving offences. Failure to reveal information that is directly relevant to the position sought could lead to withdrawal of the conditional offer of employment.

The Society may consider discussing any matter revealed in a Disclosure Certificate.

We ensure that all those in the Encephalitis Society who are involved in the recruitment process have been suitably trained to identify and assess the relevance and circumstances of Disclosure information. We also ensure that they have received appropriate guidance and training in the relevant legislation relating to employment of ex-offenders (e.g. the Rehabilitation of Offenders (Northern Ireland) Order 1978).

We undertake to make every subject of an AccessNI Disclosure aware of the existence of the Code of Practice, and to make a copy available on request.

Having a criminal record will not necessarily debar you from working with the Encephalitis Society. This will depend on the nature of the position, together with the circumstances and background of your offences or other information contained on a disclosure certificate.

Scotland Employees Policy

This policy statement relates to higher level disclosures issued by Disclosure Scotland on behalf of the Scottish Ministers under the Police Act 1997 (“the 1997 Act”) and the Protection of Vulnerable Groups (Scotland) Act 2007 (“the 2007 Act”). Higher level disclosures are: the standard and the enhanced disclosure under the 1997 Act, and the scheme record under the 2007 Act.

Under section 122 of the 1997 Act, the Scottish Ministers have published a Code of Practice (“the Code”) which sets out obligations that registered bodies, counter signatories and other recipients of higher level disclosures must comply with. We comply with the Code and the aforementioned disclosure legislation.

We are committed to equality of opportunity, to following good recruitment practice, and to providing a service which is free from unfair and unlawful discrimination. We ensure that no applicant or member of staff is subject to less favourable treatment on the grounds of a previous conviction. We actively promote the right mix of talent, skills and potential and welcome applications from a wide range of candidates, including those with previous convictions. The selection of candidates for interview will be based on skills, qualifications and experience.

We will use a higher level disclosure check by Disclosure Scotland only where this is relevant to the particular position or type of regulated work. This will be based on a thorough risk assessment of the position or work and having considered the relevant legislation which determines whether a standard or an enhanced disclosure under the 1997 Act or a scheme record under the 2007 Act (the PVG scheme) is applicable.

Individuals will be made aware that:

- the nature of the position or work entitles us to ask about unspent convictions and certain spent convictions. More information on unspent and spent convictions is available on the Disclosure Scotland website.

- where a standard or enhanced disclosure is deemed necessary, that the position or work will be subject to such a check by Disclosure Scotland.
- where a scheme record under the PVG scheme is deemed necessary, that position will be subject to such a check by Disclosure Scotland.

If we use a criminal record self-declaration form as part of our recruitment practice, we will emphasise to individuals that they should be honest in their response.

When completing the self-declaration form, an individual should reveal any unspent convictions in their name. The individual should also reveal a spent conviction for an offence included in Schedule A1 (Offences which must be disclosed subject to exceptions) of the Rehabilitation of Offenders Act 1974 (Exclusions and Exceptions) (Scotland) Order 2013 (as amended) unless, in respect of the Schedule A1 offence:

- I. the individual was under the age of 18 at the date of conviction and at least 7 years and 6 months have passed since the date of conviction, or
- II. the individual was aged 18 or over at the date of conviction and at least 15 years have passed since the date of conviction

Individuals do not have to self-declare any other spent convictions, regardless of the role they have applied for. If a higher level disclosure provided by Disclosure Scotland does contain information about a spent conviction for an offence other than an offence as set out above, the individual cannot be prejudiced by not having declared it previously.

We will ask that this form be returned under separate, confidential cover, to a designated person in our organisation. We guarantee that this form will only be seen by those who need to see it as part of the recruitment decision-making process.

At interview, or under separate discussion, we undertake to ensure an open and measured discussion on the subject of any offences or other matters that might be considered relevant for the position or work concerned. We will conduct this discussion in line with the “central conversation” approach outlined in the ‘Scotland Works For You’ guidance.

We undertake to discuss any matter revealed in a standard or an enhanced disclosure issued under the 1997 Act or a scheme record issued under the 2007 Act with the individual subject of that disclosure before a decision on recruitment is made.

We ensure that all those who are involved in the decision-making process have been suitably trained to identify and assess the relevance and circumstances of disclosure information. We also ensure that they have received appropriate guidance and training about recruitment of individuals with convictions.

We will provide a copy of this policy and the Code to anyone who asks to see it.
